Charles Carroll of Carrollton, Maryland "Father of Religious Liberty in America"

HISTORY proves, to their eternal honor, that the Catholics were the first in America to advocate the freedom of all sects to worship at any shrine they chose to bend a knee. Of all the cavaliers of Maryland, none were more noble and none adored Liberty more than Charles Carroll, who, with his kinsman, Archbishop John Carroll, strove for the hereditary rights of mankind to practice Civil and Religious Liberty. Carroll was one of the richest and most learned men in the Colonies and when he proudly affixed his name to our immortal Declaration of Independence he courted the confiscation of his vast estates. A bystander facetiously remarked, as he did so, "There goes a few millions." He was elected to the National Convention which adopted the Constitution of the United States, but illness forbade his attendance. His cousin, though, Daniel Carroll, signed our National Law, which forever guarantees to Americans Civil, Religious and Personal Liberty.

Highway Gathering

By REV. JAMES M. GRAY, D.D., Dean of Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT—So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good—about midnight.

These words are, in the parable of the marriage of the king's son, intended by our Lord to announce the forerunner of the messianic kingdom, temporarily, at least, by the Jewish people, and the proclamation of the gospel of grace to the Gentiles. One wishes there were opportunity to go into the details of the parable and supply its precious teachings, but there is time only to emphasize one point.

and that is the duty and privilege of "highway gathering." By this is meant the preaching of the gospel, not merely by the ordained minister, but by laymen as well, who know by experience the redemption which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

These beautiful summer days and evenings afford unusual opportunity for this in the utilizing of our parks, and vacant lots, and church steps and street corners for reaching multitudes with the broad of life. The prophets of the Old Testament were open-air preachers. Jesus Christ and his apostles were open-air preachers. Some of the greatest evangelists in all the days were open-air preachers. How could Whitefield and the Wesleys have reached the masses when church doors were closed against them, unless they had taken to the open air? What an open-air preacher was Gen. William Booth! Today many of the ablest Christian laymen of Great Britain, as well as the clergy, are found standing on improvised platforms at the street corners telling out the gospel of salvation, and urging their fellow men to accept the offer of atonement through Jesus Christ.

1. This is enjoined upon you, Christian brethren, as a duty to God and to your neighbor. Remember the words, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." "Ye shall be witnesses unto me." These commands are not to ecclesiastics merely but to all the disciples of Christ. And then what shall we say of the command, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself?" Have we ever felt, as thou, that love unto him we have actively interested ourselves in the salvation of our neighbor? To feed him when he is hungry, or clothe him when he is naked, or visit him in sickness, or comfort him in his affliction is not enough, except as we try to save him for eternity.

2. It is enjoined upon you as a personal advantage in the sense of development and in sense of reward. If we want to grow in the spiritual life we want to exercise ourselves in its ministry. If we would know more of the love and the power of God towards ourselves, we must experiment with what we now have in dealing with others. In this, as in that which is more material, the principle holds good, "Give and it shall be given unto you." And then what about our reward in the future as well as in the present? At the last reckoning we shall be deemed the same rank and glory will not be given to the indolent and unfruitful as to the earnest and self-sacrificing. The same Scripture which says in one place, "Look unto me and be ye saved," says in another, "Look unto yourselves that ye receive a full reward." "They who turn many to righteousness shall shine as the stars forever and ever."

3. It is enjoined upon you as a political necessity. This may be regarded as the weakest and most selfish of the arguments, and for that reason should have come first rather than last, but there are special reasons for stating it at the last. What political and social problems are pressing upon the attention of thoughtful citizens, and especially Christian citizens, at this time? In all our great cities the needy classes are multiplying every year, and with them those who represent the ignorance, immorality and crime of all great populations. The conflict between capital and labor, and employers and employees, is leading none of its intensest, now rumbling ominously like some far-off earthquake, and now breaking out into the volcanic eruption of the disastrous strikes. At the other extreme look at the luxury and extravagance, the heartless worldliness and the grasping selfishness of many of the so-called "upper classes."

These things threaten the life of our nation, the peace and prosperity of our homes, and are a startling challenge to the Christian church. We must go forth on a new crusade. We must go out into the highways and gather together all as many as we find both bad and good. We must give ourselves enthusiastically to the work by prayer, by money, by personal endeavor.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. REILLY, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR AUGUST 8

THE KINGDOM OF ABRAHAM.

LESSON TEXT—1 Kings 12-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall.

Solomon's kingdom though outwardly magnificent, contained within it those germs of oppression, formal religious observances and the lax example of an indolent monarch which speedily led to its disruption after his death. Forty years Solomon reigned, but the latter end of his life was none too peaceful. "He loved many strange women" and "his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God" (1 Kings 11:1-4). Reason was his "adversary" (11:25) and Jeroboam whom he at first sought to conciliate (11:26-27) was finally driven from the land (v. 40). Chapter eleven contains the prophecy of which this lesson is the fulfillment. "And Rehoboam, his son, reigned in his stead" (11:43).

1. The Convention at Shechem, v. 15. This place has an important history beginning in the days of Abraham and Jacob. It was a city of the Levites and the place where Joshua gave his final charge (Josh. 24:1, 25). Abimelech destroyed it though it was soon rebuilt. Here Israel gathered to confirm Solomon's son upon the throne. Jeroboam and Judah readily accepted Rehoboam as king, but the ten tribes hesitated and, according to one translation there was a year's delay during which time Jeroboam was sent for and certain reforms were formulated (v. 8). Their charges were entirely selfish and made no reference to the rights of Jehovah nor offered any protest against the increasing idolatry. Before allegiance was sworn Jeroboam as spokesman presented these reforms (v. 4) and Rehoboam wisely asked for time to consider the request (v. 8).

2. Good Counsel Neglected, v. 6-12. Rehoboam came of bad stock (ch. 14:11), yet his first step was a wise one. His name was "Solomon of the people," but he sadly belied the name. Too long had he lived in the atmosphere of luxury and extravagance. The northern tribes suffered through taxation and shared none of the prosperity of Jerusalem. Solomon's "yoke," like that of every earthly monarch, had been heavy (ch. 11:29, 30). The counsel of the old men was good (v. 7), it was wisely, mainly.

3. Tell us that the greatest must be the servant of all men and see the example himself (Matt. 20:28). Rehoboam next consulted those of his own circle who "were grown up with him," men of his position and passions, youths as inexperienced as himself who had no sympathy but were wild, conceited, overbearing, selfish. Rehoboam asked "advice" (v. 8) of the old men, but asked for "counsel" (v. 9) of the young men, but in neither case is there any suggestion that God was consulted (James 1:5). These young men counseled a boasting and burdensome course which brought Rehoboam to grief. Oppression always results in rebellion, a fact that those who govern or employ others should ponder well. Rehoboam's choice of counselors and his consequent course of action was the height of foolishness (Prov. 12:20).

4. Bad Counsel Confirmed, v. 13-14. Jeroboam's subsequent career confirms us in believing that he more than all others encouraged and fostered the division of the kingdom. But he and the proud, foolish princeling were both only carrying out the word and will of Jehovah (v. 15; Ps. 78:10). This does not, however, lessen his guilt for folly (Acts 2:23). Not content with declaring his acceptance of the evil counsel he spoke "roughly" (v. 13) and this verse suggests to us that "the old men counsel" was known to the people, thereby aggravating his offense. "Whom God wishes to destroy he first makes mad." Rough words often do more harm than kind words. Words you may lead an elephant by a hair. Not content to refuse Rehoboam's choice of counselors (v. 14), Jeroboam added burdens (v. 14).

5. Consequences of the curse upon the kingdom from Solomon's house because Solomon had turned away from God (ch. 11:31, 32, 33). A true prophet foretold what would happen to the "cause was from the Lord that he might perform his saying" (v. 15, cf. 11:31, 32). God is constantly and literally fulfilling prophecy. Those which have been so fully and so minutely fulfilled are a warrant that in due time all will likewise "come to pass." Rehoboam is a lesson to the young men of today.

Rehoboam is also a lesson to present day fathers. Finally Rehoboam is a lesson to all who are set in authority. To close our ears to the cry of the needy; to forget our obligations to God and to men (Matt. 23); and to fail to see God's purposes, prophecies and plans, inevitably courts disaster.

The coming king of kings who in fulfillment of prophecy did come, he will come again, has a robe for his subjects "which is easy." His finger (ch. 10) and hands were used in loving ministries and the only charge (v. 11) he ever permits is that which proves us to be "sons," not slaves. (Matt. 23:8-11).

NATIONAL NEGRO PRESS ASSOCIATION

A GREATER ST. LOUIS

Much is being said, and more is being written in the press, about a greater St. Louis. An agitation is being started looking towards the annexation of the outlying towns and suburbs to the city, thus giving to St. Louis a population that will insure its retention of the fourth place among the great cities of the land.

Annexation of adjoining territory is one way of increasing a city's population. New York, Boston, Chicago, and other cities owe their greatness partly to the absorption of contiguous towns. But they owe their greatness more particularly to the fact that they are made attractive places to live in, and made centers of opportunity.

A city offering a fair opportunity for the utilizing of one's education, training, skill or natural aptitude need not resort to annexation to increase its population. A city made attractive to live in through absence of unfair discrimination, uncalled for prejudice and illegal oppression, would grow in number by the natural influx of people, because the trend of population now is towards the city.

By all means, let us have a greater St. Louis. But, first, let the city be made greater in character rather than greater in numbers. Let it be made greater in opportunity rather than greater in territory. Let it be greater in civic pride, greater in the American spirit of freedom and equality, then annexation might be worthy of consideration.

Why try to bring in people through annexation, when they are being driven out through oppression?

Nor is there any excuse for their oppression. The Negro constitutes nearly a tenth of this city's population. On the whole, he is a good and desirable citizen. He is law-abiding, industrious to the extent of his limited opportunities, ambitious in the face of handicaps, self-respecting though scorned by his white brothers, and is a conscientious home-builder in spite of perennial threats of segregation.

If all these drawbacks were removed—and they might be easily removed if the authorities were politically wise, not to say just and Christian—the Negro might soon be made to constitute fifteen or twenty per cent of the city's population.

But with continued oppression, discrimination and abuse, the percentage may drop to five per cent or less. And a city characterized by such narrowness of vision and pettiness of spirit would not even be attractive to the white people.

Again we say, let us have a greater St. Louis—but greater in spirit and character first. Then it will follow, as the night follows the day, that it will become greater in numbers.

A broad, liberal, fair, brotherly St. Louis can easily retain fourth place. But a narrow, petty, prejudiced St. Louis may drop to sixth place, and might better drop to sixteenth.

A MORAL VICTORY

The Circuit Court has decided that Charles H. Turpin was fairly and honestly elected to the office of Constable of the Fourth District. This settles a matter that had in it an element of political nastiness, to say the least.

While we compliment Mr. Turpin upon his political victory, we are equally gratified at our own moral victory. Even had we not supported Mr. Turpin's candidacy, we would still have taken the very stand that we did, in the face of the facts and figures.

We contended then, and shall always contend, for an honest ballot. We hold principles higher than men. We stated during the campaign that we were not fighting so much for Turpin, the man, as we were for this office which meant so much to our race. Not that we love Caesar less, but Rome more.

We urge, then, that racial rivalries and differences be subordinated to the general good. Though our plea was unheeded, and a most bitter campaign was waged among the Negro voters, right triumphed, nevertheless.

We hope the deep lesson of it all will be learned, and, above all, applied at the next election.

THE PEACEMAKER

The world lies in bondage to the god of war. Christendom bristles with guns. Millions of men are under arms. Nations look with terror out upon the sea, watching the dreadnaughts and submarines of their neighbors. Every breeze wailing landward carries the reverberations of guns and torpedoes, with which men are striving to perfect themselves in the art of sinking and drowning a thousand of their fellows at once. Half the world is deluged with a flood of blood. The other half is deluged with a flood of war talk.

Two thousand years after the death of "The Peacemaker," Christian nations are thinking of war, talking of war, planning for war, pouring out their treasures in implements of war—and are at war.

In a world so crowded with military sights and sounds, how beautiful on the mountains are the feet of Him who comes to say:

"Let us have peace." See Him coming down over the mountains and battlefields, through the long line of bayonets and guns standing in the very midst of the engine of slaughter, saying: "My peace I give unto you."

WOULD UNCLE SAM BE "POWERLESS?"

Another Negro burned at the stake. Again, shame and ignominy to the State of Texas. Not that it is anything new, for we have grown used to such things.

But the cowardly efforts to shift the responsibility prompt us to ask the question abashed. The sheriff said he was powerless to prevent the outrage. The deputies say they were powerless. The citizens say they were powerless. The Governor says he was powerless.

Would Uncle Sam be powerless?

Make lynching a federal offence and see.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Mr. Jones, of the Young Men's Christian Association, gave us a most inspiring message at our Out-of-Door Service, Sunday afternoon.

We wish the mothers and friends would keep in touch with the girls in their vacation work. Our Bible contest closes next week, at which time a beautiful Association pin is to be awarded to the little girl who has achieved the highest score.

Work has been begun in great earnestness at our new place on the corner of Garrison and Lucas Aves. It reminds one very much of a bee-hive. We wish every friend and subscriber would visit the place and see the work in progress. Mr. Frank Robertson is on the job every day and will be glad to show you through and explain things to you.

A swinging garden and carnival will be held on the grounds at 4014-16 Finney Ave., beginning August 9. The entertainment will be under the auspices of Lane Tabernacle, C. M. E. Church. Simultaneously with the outdoor affair, an indoor Musical Fair will be held in the church on Fairfax. All kinds of needle, sewing, embroidery and art work and premiums will be on display. Electric fans will be installed to give comfort to the guests and prizes will be awarded for best work. Persons desiring to exhibit should inquire at and bring exhibits to, 4111 Finney Ave.

Bishop Chas. H. Phillips will practically open the garden and fair by delivering a sermon at the church Sunday, the 8th.

The grounds at 4014-16 Finney Ave. are to be beautifully decorated with numerous electric light plants and bunting. A large bandstand and booths will be constructed. Band concerts and moving pictures will be featured each night and the carnival spirit will prevail. Booths are offered to other churches. Persons desiring to get full particulars should write at Lane Tabernacle, C. M. E. Church. The following are members of the Committee of Arrangements: A. Brown, W. Powell, S. P. Johnson, J. W. Francis, R. Allen, A. Jordan, W. H. Ward, H. Marsh, J. C. Campbell, J. H. Taylor, S. S. Sneed, W. S. Miller, R. Murphy, William Wilkerson, R. Wallace, J. W. S. Lowe is pastor; S. B. Wallace, clerk; P. E. Ross, Sunday school supervisor. The admission will be adults 10 cents, children 5 cents.

Home were Mrs. Frances Jackson, of Kansas City, and Miss Feber, of New Orleans. Miss Feber was on her way to Chicago Thursday.

Redemption of Souls' Spiritualist Church, 2641 Lucas Ave., had the honor of having our State Secretary, Dr. Virgil, and his wife, Henrietta, visiting, general missionary, with us on Sunday, August 1, at 7:30 p. m.

The doctor most eminently displayed his knowledge of spiritualism, of which we, as beginners, are very anxious to know. We believe that by knowing the truth, "the truth shall make us free."

Mr. Craven is a genuine insurance man and with the co-operation of other agents and the attractive contracts which the Clover Leaf sells, great results are expected of him.

The return of Mr. J. B. McFarland, one of the former agents of the Company, makes seven new agents that have been appointed in the last two days; a total of thirteen agents for the Clover Leaf Co.

Mr. E. Hawkins, District Manager, will be in the city for less than twenty men writing for the Company in the near future.

The Clover Leaf is employing more colored agents than any other Company in the City of St. Louis.

Two great services made last Sunday memorable at Moor Church. In the morning Pastor Martyn preached a wonderful sermon on "The sign of the Cross," which carried the big congregation away in a transport of spiritual joy. A beautiful baptismal service followed, when two candidates went down into the water.

In the afternoon the covenant and communion service showed the usual spirit of fellowship and was finely attended, while all the July additions to membership were received into fellowship.

Next Sunday, the pastor, Dr. F. E. Martyn, will preach both morning and night. The subject of his morning sermon, "Lessons from the Eastland steamboat disaster. Evening subject: 'The Church and War.' This will be a sermon of unusual interest and importance, especially at this time of war and threatened war.

The public is cordially invited to both services.

That the Pullman Porters' Benevolent Association is hilling a great need in the community is evidenced by the letter of interest received by Mr. A. Gresham, secretary of the S. W. O. Organization.

My Dear A. Gresham: Sec'y Pullman Porter's Benevolent Association.

My Esteemed Sir: I find it impossible to fully express my sincere appreciation of the rich benefits I have received in many ways from your splendid organization. I hope every Pullman porter will take advantage of the most excellent opportunities it affords for the protection of their families. The local organization has rallied to me beautifully and now your prompt remittance of the full amount due me makes me doubly grateful.

DECISION STAYS

PAT ON FIVE CASE

DENIES TREATY VIOLATION, BUT IS WILLING TO GO TO THE HAGUE.

ONE PROPOSAL IS ACCEPTED

Willing to Pay for Loss of Vessel, But Stipulates Payment Shall Not Be as Balm for Wrong.

Washington, Aug. 5.—Germany is replying in her refusal to concede that the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich in the South Atlantic last January was a violation of the American right under the Prussian-American treaty or international law.

In reply to the German refusal of the United States, the German foreign office, in a note made public here by the state department, restates a previous declaration against her willingness to pay for the ship and accept a proposal first advanced by the United States, that the amount of damages be fixed by two experts, one to be selected by each country.

Hague Arbitration Invited.

Each of the two governments pledges itself to pay promptly, with the stipulation, however, that the payment shall not be viewed as a satisfaction for violation of American rights.

Should that method be unsatisfactory, Germany invited the United States to arbitrate at the Hague.

The unofficial view here is that reparation by a commission of experts probably will be satisfactory to the United States, with the provision, however, that it is not a waiver of treaty rights for which the American government contends, but applies only to the matter of damages.

It is almost certain that if the United States allows the dispute to go to the Hague for interpretation of the submarine discussion of principles through the channel of diplomacy, it will insist that Germany should not be allowed to violate the rights of the United States.

Payment for the Frye in the summer suggested would not affect the question of higher German damages.

A German prize court July 10 held the Imperial government for damages, but fixed no amount, since the United States had not agreed to a party to the proceeding, demanding settlement by diplomacy under the treaty.

DACIA SEIZURE IS UPHELD

FRENCH PRIZE COURT MAKES ADVERSE DECISION.

Gorge Was Purchased Shortly After Vessel Was Captured—Once German Owned.

Paris, Aug. 5.—A French prize court has upheld the seizure of the American cotton ship Dacia.

The Dacia was purchased from the Hamburg-American line shortly after the outbreak of the war by Edward N. Breitung of the New York and Michigan, and transferred to American registry. It was later captured by the British steamer Dacia.

MRS. W. T. WILLIAMS
The death of Mrs. W. T. Williams, of 256 Van Horn Street, Jersey City, N. J., will be a great surprise to many friends in St. Louis, where she and her mother, Mrs. Rebecca Thompson, had their home for a number of years. She became the wife of Wm. M. Graves and later moved to New York and joined her mother in business and was very successful. She was a widow in 1912 and in 1914 she became the wife of W. T. Williams and moved to his home at Jersey City, where she enjoyed a short, happy life, as she was soon stricken with a disease which rapidly carried her away. She was noted for her charming character and her beautiful Christian spirit. She was loved by who knew her. She passed away Friday, July 23, at 1:45. Funeral services from Wesley Lane funeral parlor, at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Cremation, Monday morning at 10 o'clock, private. Funeral was attended by a host of friends from New York and Jersey City. Floral tokens were many and magnificent.

DR. FISHER
The Rev. Dr. E. J. Fisher, pastor of the Baptist Church, died last Saturday, after a lingering illness. Funeral services were held today and attended by a great crowd.

Dr. Fisher was vice-president of the National Baptist Convention, president of the Western Convention and president of the Baptists of Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. David Morris, of 4288 Cote Brillante ave., entertained the Violet White Club, July 28. All members were present. Prize won by Mrs. Thomas and Mr. DuMoulin. All reported having spent a pleasant evening. Next meeting will be with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood, 2420 Pendleton Ave. August 11. J. F. Johnson, Pres. David Morris, Sec'y.

CLEANS POLISHES

PREVENTS RUST

34-One is a light, pure oil compounded that never gums. 34-One is a perfect cleaning machine, typewriter, locks, clocks, lawnmowers—everything that ever made clogging in your home or office. No grease. No acid. A little 34-One on a wet cloth cleans and polishes perfectly all renewed or varnished furniture and woodwork. Sprinkled on a yard of black cloth it makes an ideal dusting and washing cloth. 34-One is the most powerful solvent on gun barrels, auto fixtures, ball room fixtures, gas ranges, everything metal, indoors or out, in any climate. It sticks into the unseen metal pores and forms a protecting "overcoat" which stays on. Free—34-One—Free. Write today for generous free bottle and 34-One is sold in all good stores in 3-oz. bottles: 10c (1 oz.), 25c (3 oz.), 50c (8 oz., 1/2 pint). Also in new patented Handy Oil Can, 25c (3/4 oz.). S. K. ATHLETICS AND AMUSEMENTS

By H. T. M.

BASEBALL

The St. Louis Giants will play at Kyle's Park, in East St. Louis, vs. the East St. Louis Giants Sunday. Mr. Kyle has long claimed that his team could beat Charlie Miller's Champions and to settle the difference of opinion our boys will meet them on their own grounds Sunday at 3 p. m. A large crowd of St. Louis fans are planning to visit our East St. Louis visitors Sunday, as this will be the last time they will get to see their prizes play before the eastern invasion which begins August 14.

The Walton Blues and the Maroon Giants will play on the grounds at Grand and Market Sts., Sunday at 3 p. m.

Your pleasure will not be complete while in St. Louis unless you visit Crystal City.

Monday is your chance to give the Orphans' Home a boost by going on the excursion to Montezano Springs. A day's outing will do you good.

ST. LOUIS BOY MAKES HIT
Taggart Hartgraves, a St. Louis boy, won Charley Chaplin's Imitators Contest at the Miles Theater, Detroit, Michigan, July 29, 1915.

Jasper Taylor, the trap drummer at the Booker Washington, has accepted a position in a theater at Memphis and left Tuesday. His place has been taken by Silvester Shorak.

MR. AND MRS. DOWNING VISITING HERE

A great many of her St. Louis friends will be surprised to learn that Vena Martin has been the wife of her theatrical partner, A. J. Downing, for more than a year. The couple travel under the stage name of "The Rajahs," and are now visiting Mrs. Downing's mother at 4818a Finney.

THEATRES

BOOKER WASHINGTON THEATRE

Davis and Davis open the show this week singing that tuneful melody "Winter's Night." They offer a chapter of clean comic dialogue that pleases the audiences. Their touch of dramatic dialogue is especially humorous. Their trio of songs are well received. They close with a song and dance and go good.

Gee and Brown present an act of considerable class. They open singing, "Cake Walk Ball," and immediately establish themselves in the favor of the audience. Miss Gee scores a hit with her singing and dancing. Miss Brown, possessing a sweet voice, takes the house by storm with her solo number, "If the World Should End Tomorrow, I'd Be Tonight With You." They close strong with, "My Bird of Paradise," a beautiful duet. They have a wealth of elegant costumes and are making a big hit.

Frank Foster, the dialect comedian, is a decided diversion in black face. His monologue jokes are up-to-date and humorous. His character impersonation of a disappointed female is good. He closes with a travesty on "Yankee Doodle."

Green and Delaney in a song and dance act, are up to the average. They sing well and put over a neat bit of acrobatic dancing. All of their numbers are well-received and are rewarded with generous applause.

Mr. Turpin has installed in his theatre the largest theatre exhaust fan in the city. It has a diameter of four feet and expels 32,000 cubic feet of air every minute. It completely changes the air in the house twice each minute, giving a constant supply of fresh pure air, insuring a germ proof atmosphere. The B. W. has been as cool as a cucumber and fresh as the morning air on the hottest nights since its installation.

business you shall follow to be successful, don't fail to consult W. L. Gladstone.

His advice may be the means of saving you thousands of dollars and a great deal of trouble.

LOVE, COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE.

If affairs of the heart or emotions of love interest you, he gives the exact and truthful revelations of all love affairs.

Gladstone's "Double Veil" enables you to win the outcome and affection of anyone you desire, cause speedy and happy marriages; tells if the one you love is true; also date of marriage; reunites strangely separated friends; reveals the future of all who consult him. Also tells you the full extent how to control, fantasy and charm the one you love. Also tells you the full extent how to make a perfectly lovely woman realize you are her only true love.

NOTE—Those calling for pastimes, curious and frivolous persons are only waste-time calling on Prof. Gladstone.

Strangely fascinating are the words that come from the cultivated lips of this most interesting man whose journey of life has already taken him through all the renown psychic schools of Egypt, India and Europe. It seems, indeed, as if he had received more from that mysterious world of which we all would know yet know so little. He is a man who has away into the dim mysterious future—

the great beyond—across the dark chasm which separates the human body from the fitting soul—and that which is to be in fold. The operations are brought to
